WELCOME CEREMONY FOR NEW MEMBERS OF THE ARCADIA WOMAN'S CLUB.

A lighted candle for each new member is placed before the President. She rises and reads out the names of the new members to be initiated and then says, "Will all these new members please come forward."

As they stand facing the President, she says,

"We are happy to welcome you to membership in our club and we all hope that your years with us will be filled to overflowing with the joy that comes from friendship shared and successful accomplishment. Our first gift to you is your year book, in which you will find all manner of information about your club. (She hands out the year books as she speaks.) Keep it with you and use it often as a guide and a personal directory. You will find it of great value in your club life. I am going to ask the Chaplain to read the Collect for Clubwomen to you, which you will find on page 7."

The Chaplain rises and reads,

Keep us, O Lord, from pettiness; let us be large in thought, in word, in deed.
Let us be done with fault-finding and leave off self-seeking.
May we put away all pretense and meet each other face to face without self-pity and without prejudice.
May we never be hasty in judgment and always generous.
Teach us to put into action our better impulses, straightforward and unafraid.
Let us take time for all things; make us grow calm, serene, gentle.
Grant that we may realize that it is the little things that create differences; that in the big things of life we are at one.
And may we strive to touch and know the great common woman's heart of us all, and O Lord God, let us not forget to be kind.

Then the President says,

"Our second gift to you is your book of By-Laws, which you will not use as often as your year book, bu which you may need for reference from time to time. Study it well today so that you will become acquainted with your responsibilities toward the club as well as to learn the Club's obligations toward its members. (The President hands out the By-Laws as she speaks.)

The President hands each new member a lighted candle as she says,

Our third gift to you is the gift of light. Let this lighted candle mean to you the everlasting light of friendship, love and service. ~~xxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxxx~~ Let it not grow dim for lack of use, but keep it ever burning brightly in your heart in faithfulness and in courage, in constant pursuit of your own highest ideals. Remember the words of the Book, "Let thy light so shine that men may see thy good works and glorify thy Father."

And now, as you return to your places amongst your fellow club members they want to welcome you with our own club song."

The new members go back to their places and the rest of the members sing the Theme Song of Arcadia Woman's Club.
